What we do

With an extensive portfolio of tests, Regenerus Labs partners with some of the world's leading research laboratories to bring doctors, nutritional therapists, functional medicine practitioners, dietitians and other health and fitness professionals a variety of exceptional quality, well-researched tools to support their patients in reaching peak health and well-being.

We source reliable and scientifically researched functional diagnostic testing services for you, offering an almost entirely door-to-door service across the UK and Ireland to ensure a fast, accessible, and simple solution to your testing requirements. We also provide services to Europe, The Middle East and Asia.

Why test?

Functional testing is a vital part of the jigsaw when working to achieve optimum health. We are committed to sourcing the latest and most outstanding products on the market, assisting patients in all areas of health from digestive wellness, hormone health and infectious diseases, to food sensitivities, autoimmune conditions, and emotional well-being. Working closely with laboratories such as Cyrex Laboratories, Doctor's Data Inc., Mosaic Diagnostics, Immunosciences Lab, Inc. Precision Analytical Inc. (DUTCH), and many more, we provide health care professionals and their customers with a solution for all their testing requirements.
